

YOUTHShare | A Place for Youth in Mediterranean EEA: Resilient and Sharing Economies for NEETs

Projects like the YOUTHShare, usually count their impact with numbers; numbers of beneficiaries, number of NEETs received training, number of unemployed people being matched to jobs etc. Behind those numbers, however, there is hard and meticulous but noiseless work being done, without which all of the above would be pointless. Extensive research, detailed studies and long reports are not the protagonists but the essential stepping stones towards the outreaching and "impactful" outputs.

With the present press release we would like to celebrate the conclusion of one of those essential, yet "behind-the-scenes", outputs. The training material of the YOUTHShare project for the coming training program for NEETs has been written, edited, designed, translated into English, Greek, Italian and Spanish and is ready to be used by anyone interested in acquiring essential skills in niche sectors of the economy. But given that numbers still count, 15 books and around 2.250 pages are far from insignificant; they are a valuable toolbox for any policy maker, university, training provider, unemployed person and/or NEET who would like to update their skills and re-enter the job market.

Each Trainee's Handbook serves as the main educational material for the former NEETs who will participate in a 40-hour seminar; while the corresponding Educator's Manual is designed to assist the Educators of the seminar. Both are supported by an e-learning platform, where the set of Manual and Handbook on Skills in Resilient Sectors is available for online use or download. The e-learning platform is available at: <https://elearning.youthshare-project.org>. The training material has been produced with the active collaboration of almost all YOUTHShare Project Partners. Special acknowledgments are owed, though, to the authors and editors of each volume and the team of experts from the Catholic University of Murcia. Special thanks are owed to Dr Ioannis Pissourios (Neapolis University Pafos), Dr Michalis Poulimas (University of the Aegean), Mr Savvas Alexandros Pavlidis (Rhodes Project SCE) and Mr Michalis Kavouklis (MGK) for their dedication and wholehearted engagement during critical moments of the production of the training material.

The YOUTHShare project is boldly looking to the next steps that will turn the focus on the NEETs training in Greece, Cyprus, Italy and Spain.
